

Weekly Newsletter

It being Valentine's Day, the end of term and mid-point of the academic year, we thought we'd share some love for the school community and celebrate the reasons why we love it so much!

PTA and community events - we've hosted some brilliant events led by our PTA from the Christmas Fair to pupil discos, wreath making and more, and there's loads more to come this year! We've also sent a literal car-full of donations to a local food bank which is something for us all to feel very proud of!

Performance and music - we've seen some stellar performances this year including our Carol Concert and Nativities, a number of amazing year group assemblies and most recently an in-school celebration of the instrument tuition we have in Key Stage 2.

Author visits - an impressive three author visits already this year! We've welcomed M.G. Leonard, Matt Lucas and this week Jenny McLachlan filled the hall with myths and dragons! We've also had some special mystery readers and of course are now planning for the magic of World Book Day next month!

Visits and visitors - children across the school have been treated to animal encounters at Chester Zoo and Knowsley Safari Park, theatre and cinema trips and hair raising adventures at Robinwood Activity Centre.

Sports - some amazing performances this year in a range of sports both within school and against external opposition and our first award of the year for our fair access approach in this area.

...and this is of course not exhaustive and there is of course loads more to come this year. Thank you as ever for your support in all of the above. We hope you yourselves have enjoyed the first half of the year!
